

Dutch professional manufacturer of trapezoidal cable trays

Article Overview

Trayco Nederland, Gouda Holland, and CC Nederland B.V. are leading Dutch manufacturers of cable tray systems, including trapezoidal designs.

Trayco Nederland

Trayco Nederland specializes in cable support systems and PV solutions. Founded in 2014, the company has grown to offer engineering, logistics, and installation coordination for complete electrical infrastructure projects. They provide a wide range of cable trays and related systems, ensuring fast delivery and project support from design to installation, making them a reliable partner for industrial and commercial applications (Trayco Nederland) .

Gouda Holland

Gouda Holland, part of the Niedax Group, produces light-duty and medium/heavy-duty cable ducts, including NATO trays and trapezoidal designs. Their systems feature continuous longitudinal slot perforations, integrated coupling connections, and options for covers and fasteners. Materials include glass fiber reinforced polyester (GRP), which is UV, corrosion, and chemical resistant, halogen-free, and lightweight. These trays are widely used in industrial, marine, and machine-building applications (Gouda Holland) .
