

How much does it cost to customize a Chinese-made mesh cable tray

Article Overview

Customizing a Chinese-made mesh cable tray typically costs between $20 and $80 per meter, depending on material, wire diameter, mesh size, and surface finish.

Factors Affecting Cost

- Material Type: Stainless steel (304 or 316) is more expensive than galvanized or carbon steel, while aluminum and copper options can further increase costs due to material value and corrosion resistance requirements .
- Wire Diameter and Mesh Aperture: Thicker wires and smaller mesh openings require more material and precise welding, raising the price per meter .
- Surface Finish: Options like electro-galvanizing are cheaper, while hot-dip galvanizing, powder coating, or stainless steel finishes increase durability and cost .
- Customization Complexity: Special bends, junctions, drop-outs, or unique dimensions require additional labor and tooling, which can add 10-30% to the base price .
- Order Quantity: Larger orders reduce unit cost due to economies of scale, while small batches or prototypes are more expensive per meter .
- Supplier and Shipping: Direct factory sourcing from platforms like Alibaba, Made-in-China, or 1688 can lower costs, but shipping, import duties, and quality control inspections add to the total expense .
