

Where to buy electrical distribution boxes in India

Article Overview

Electrical distribution boxes in India are manufactured by numerous companies across major industrial cities such as Noida, Delhi, Mumbai, and other regions, serving residential, commercial, and industrial sectors.

Key Manufacturing Locations

Electrical distribution boxes are produced in several industrial hubs across India. Cities like Noida, Delhi, Mumbai, and other metropolitan and industrial regions host leading manufacturers and suppliers. These locations are chosen for their access to industrial infrastructure, skilled labor, and proximity to electrical utilities and construction markets.

Leading Manufacturers

Some of the prominent manufacturers and suppliers include:

- Vaibhav Laxmi Industries (VLI): Offers a wide range of distribution boxes with safety features like circuit breakers and surge protection, catering to residential, commercial, and industrial applications.
- Neelu Packing Industries, Noida: Established in 1987, they manufacture LT distribution boxes, meter boxes, and other power distribution products for state governments and electrical utilities.
- Pantek Group: Provides high-quality distribution boxes with nationwide supply cov...
